1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1, 21 and 24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Nakamura et al. (U. S. Pat. No. 4,821,753) .

Re claims 1 and 21 for example, note that Nakamura discloses an industrial parts washer for cleaning a part, the industrial parts washer comprising:

a stand (142, see fig. 11) adapted to support the part in a cantilever manner;
a chamber (100);

where a stand part (9) is selectively moveable in a direction substantially parallel to the ground from a first position to a second position engaging said chamber, said stand and said chamber forming a sealed volume encapsulating the part when said stand is in said second position; and a chamber (100) selectively moveable in a direction substantially parallel to the ground from a first position clear of the part to a second position engaging said stand (col.5, line 62, thru col. 6, line 40), said stand and said chamber forming a sealed volume encapsulating the part and said chamber having a bottom extending beneath the part when said chamber is in said second position; and a nozzle (117) coupled to a pressurized fluid supply, said nozzle being positioned within said chamber and moveable relative to the part (as moved by the chamber), circumferentially encompassing the part

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claim 10 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the Nakamura et al. in view of Marshall (U. S. Pat. No. 2,681,069).

Claim 10 defines over Nakamura only in the recitation of the transparent chamber.

Marshall discloses the transparent chamber as claimed. It therefore would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to modify the chamber in Nakamura, to be transparent as taught by Marshall, for the purpose of allowing the user to visualize the washing process.

5. Claim 11 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the Nakamura et al. in view of EPO'307 (European Patent Office 0 022 307).

Claim 11 defines over Nakamura only in the recitation of the circulation and filtration system. EPO'307 discloses circulation and filtration system as claimed. EPO'307 is cited disclosing the circulation and filtering system as claimed. It therefore would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to modify the arrangement of Nakamura, to include a circulation and filtration system as taught by EPO'307, for the purpose of reusing the cleaning fluid, thereby efficiently washing the part.

6. Claims 12, 22 and 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the Nakamura et al. in view of EPO'525 (European Patent Office 0 110 525).

Claims 12, defines over Nakamura only in the recitation of the exhaust system.

EPO'525 discloses exhaust system as claimed (page 6, lines 11-12. It therefore would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to modify the arrangement of Nakamura, to include an exhaust system as taught by EPO'525, for the preventing the escape of harmful material into the environment. Re claims 22 and 23, EPO'525 discloses the rotatable hub.

7. Claims 25 and 26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Nakamura et al. in view of Russia'384 (Russia 2 018 384).

Claims 26 and 26 define over Nakamura only in the recitation of the movable nozzle, Russia'384 discloses the movable nozzle as claimed. It therefore would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to modify the arrangement of Nakamura, to include movable nozzle as taught by Russia'384, for the purpose of enhancing the cleaning process.

8. Claim 27 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the applied prior art as applied to claim 26 above, and further in view of EPO'525.

Claim 27 defines over the applied prior art only in the recitation of vacuum/exhaust system. EPO'525 is therefore cited as applied to the subject matter of claim 12 above.

9. Applicant's arguments with respect to the pending claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
